Frequently Asked Questions About The IPA Office

What is the IPA?

The Independent Police Auditor (IPA) is a City Council appointee whose office does mainly three things: (1) takes in complaints from members of the public about San José police officers; (2) makes sure that the Internal Affairs Unit of the SJPD investigates those complaints thoroughly and fairly, and (3) recommends improvements to SJPD's policies and procedures.

The IPA is Judge LaDoris Cordell (Ret.), who has a staff of five people.

Why does the Office of the IPA matter?

The Office of the IPA matters because, by auditing the investigations into claims of police misconduct to ensure that those investigations are fair and thorough, it helps keep SJPD accountable to the communities it serves. The work of the Office of the IPA has resulted in improved police policies. For example, because of the IPA, SJPD officers must follow better rules about how to treat a person who is:

- watching an officer in the field (i.e. onlooker policy)
- hurt by an officer
- suspected of being drunk in public
- asking for an officer's name or badge number
- filing a Conduct Complaint

Is the IPA part of the police department? Why should I trust the IPA?

No, the IPA is not part of the police department. The IPA answers to the Mayor and the City Council. The Chief of Police answers to the City Manager.

You should trust the IPA because the IPA is independent. The IPA is free to agree or disagree with the decisions of the SJPD.

What can I do if I think an SJPD officer did something wrong?

One of the things you can do is file a Conduct Complaint with the IPA.

What is a Conduct Complaint?

A Conduct Complaint is a statement from you explaining why you think an SJPD officer broke one (or more) of the rules that the officer has to follow, and requesting that the officer's conduct be investigated by the SJPD. The rules are in the SJPD Duty Manual.

What if I don't know which rule the officer may have violated?

There are many rules officers have to follow and you don't need to know them all. If you have a question about whether a certain kind of behavior by an officer is against the SJPD rules, you can contact the IPA to ask.

Does it matter whether I file a Conduct Complaint?

Yes, it does matter. By speaking out about a possible problem with an officer, you are alerting the SJPD leadership about ways to improve the SJPD.

Also, the IPA looks for trends in Conduct Complaints. When we identify patterns, we make recommendations to the SJPD for improvements.

Do I have to know the officer's name or badge number?

No, you don't. While it's useful information, if you don't have that information, you can still file your complaint.

Can I file a complaint with the IPA against an officer who is not with the San José Police Department?

No. The Office of the IPA can only process your complaint if it is about an SJPD officer. Complaints about officers employed by other law enforcement agencies cannot be filed with the IPA.

Who can file a Conduct Complaint with the IPA?

Any member of the public can file a Conduct Complaint about a SJPD officer. You can file a Conduct Complaint about something that happened to you, or about something that happened to somebody else. You can live in San José or outside the city. You can be a U.S. citizen, or you can be an immigrant – with or without papers. IPA staff are fluent in English, Spanish, Vietnamese, Cantonese and Japanese. You can be a young person or you can be an adult.

You can also file a complaint if you are a defendant in a criminal case; but if the case is related to the complaint you want to tell us about, we recommend that you talk to your lawyer first.

How do I file a complaint?

You can file your complaint in writing (email, mail, fax, or hand delivery), or by talking to us about it by phone or in person. We have a form that you can fill out if you prefer to file your complaint this way. You can be anonymous if you want, although it will be harder to investigate and prove your complaint. If you file in writing, we will need to reach you if we have any questions about your complaint.

What happens after I file a Conduct Complaint?

When the Office of the IPA receives your complaint, we identify specific allegations that you have made against the officer(s). Then we forward your complaint to Internal Affairs (IA) for investigation. The IPA does not investigate any complaints. Unlike the IPA, IA is a part of SJPD. IA investigates all Conduct Complaints. As part of IA's investigation, you and any witnesses may be contacted for more information about the incident. If you claim that you were injured by an officer, you might be asked to sign a release of medical records. IA may obtain documents about the incident from the SIPD, and may interview the subject officer(s) and any witness officers. The IA investigation can take from several months to a year.

When the investigation is finished, IA issues a finding for each allegation. The possible findings are Sustained, Not Sustained, Exonerated, Unfounded, No Finding, Withdrawn, or Other. (You can read the definitions of these findings in the Glossary.) Based on these findings, the SJPD decides whether or not to discipline the subject officer(s).

The IPA gets involved again at this stage. The IPA audits IA's investigations and findings. The IPA and her staff review the investigations by IA to ensure that those investigations are thorough, objective, and fair. Sometimes the IPA agrees with the findings and sometimes the IPA disagrees. When there is a disagreement, the IPA can discuss the matter with IA. Sometimes this causes IA to re-open the investigation or change its findings. The IPA can also bring the disagreement to the attention of the Police Chief and the City Manager. You can read the IPA's Year-End Report for more details about the complaint process.

After the entire process is over and your case is closed, you will get a letter in the mail telling you the findings of the investigation.

Will I have more problems with the police if I file a Conduct Complaint?

The SJPD has strict rules that prohibit officers from retaliating against complainants.

Is the process fair to the officers?

Yes, we believe that it is. The Peace Officers Bill of Rights (POBR) is a state law that provides many protections to officers during this process. These protections include the right to have a representative present during misconduct investigation interviews, the right to an administrative appeal, and the right to review and respond to adverse comments in the officer's personnel file. POBR also places restrictions on how interviews of police officers are conducted and timelines in which investigations must be completed.

What if I don't have a Conduct Complaint against an individual officer, but I don't like a pattern I see with the police?

You can file a policy complaint. Policy complaints are not requests for individual officers to be investigated and disciplined. Instead, they are requests that the SJPD change its policies or procedures or adopt new ones. You can file a policy complaint with the Office of the IPA.

What if an officer did a good job and I want to give him or her a compliment?

You can submit compliments with Internal Affairs at SJPD by calling 408-277-4094 or by going to the SJPD website:

http://www.sjpd.org/COP/IA.html

Can you tell me what happened to the officer about whom I complained?

No, we can't. Because we must follow very strict confidentiality rules, we are not allowed to give you any information about this. In fact, it is against the law for us to talk about this with any member of the public.

What if I think that the police should have to pay me money because of what they did to me? Can the IPA help me with this?

No, we can't. This complaint process looks only at possible officer discipline. You should seek the advice of a lawyer about other remedies.

I have been charged with a crime. Will filing a complaint affect the criminal case against me?

No. The complaint you file with us is completely separate from your criminal case. The IPA cannot advise or represent you on any legal matter.

As a community member, how can I be supportive of the IPA Office?

You can help us spread the word by inviting us to give presentations in your communities. Also, there are two groups who advise the IPA: IPAAC (IPA Advisory Committee) and the IPA-TLC (Teen Leadership Council). You can visit the IPA website to learn more about these groups and how you can get involved.
